Dos and Don'ts

I. Residence Registration

Immediately after Entry into China

(I) For foreigners staying in a hotel, residence registration can be handled by the hotel.

Foreigners can register residence by presenting a valid passport or other international travel documents to the hotel reception.

(II) Foreigners who stay elsewhere need to register residence at the local police station within 24 hours upon arrival.

Foreigners can register residence at the local police station by presenting a valid passport or other international travel documents, along with the rental contract or property ownership certificate.

II. Matters Requiring Special Attention

(I) Validity period of visa

Foreigners who enter China with a visa and plan to work and live in China need to apply for a residence permit within 30 days from the date of entry according to relevant requirements. If an extension of the duration of stay specified in the visa is required, the application should be submitted to the exit and entry administration authority of public security organs of local people's governments at or above the county level in the place of residence, at least 7 days before the expiration of the duration of stay specified in the visa, with the relevant materials relating to the purpose of the application.

(II) Validity period of residence permit

Foreigners who need to stay in China after the expiration of residence permits shall apply for an extension 30 days before the expiration. Foreigners who hold a valid residence permit and have changed passports or had other items on the residence permit changed shall apply to the exit and entry administration authority of public security organs for information update within 10 days from the date the changes occur.

(III) Validity period of work permit

1. Foreigners working within China should obtain a work permit. Those who intend to work in China for no more than 90 days shall apply for a Z visa from the Chinese embassy (consulate) with the Notification Letter for Foreigner's Work Permit, and work in China within the time indicated on the visa. Those who intend to work in China for more than 90 days shall apply for a Z visa from the Chinese embassy (consulate) with the Notification Letter for Foreigner's Work Permit, apply for a residence permit for work in accordance with relevant regulations after entry, and work in China within the validity period of the work permit.

2. The employer shall submit an application for an extension to the local administration department of foreigners working in China 30 days before the expiration of the work permit.

3. In case of any change in personal information (name, passport number, and position), an application for changes shall be submitted to the administration department of foreigners working in China in the place where the employer is located within 10 working days from the date the changes occur.

(IV) Scope of unilateral visa-free countries.

From November 30, 2024, to December 31, 2025, visa exemption will be applied to ordinary passport holders from Bulgaria, Romania, Malta, Croatia, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Estonia, Latvia and Japan on a trial basis. In addition, China has decided to further optimize its visa-free policy by including exchange visit as a purpose eligible for visa-free entry, extending the period of visa-free stays from the current 15 days to 30 days. Starting from November 30, 2024, ordinary passport holders from the 38 countries within this visa-free arrangement, including the aforementioned newly added nine countries, can enter China without applying for a visa for the purposes of business, tourism, family visits, exchange visits and transit, with stays of no more than 30 days.

(V) Others

1. Foreigners shall go through residence registration in accordance with the provisions of the Exit and Entry Administration Law of the People's Republic of China. The exit-entry administration of the public security department may, when accepting a foreigner's visa application, require the applicant to provide proof of residence registration in China.

2. Foreigners must abide by the laws and regulations of China when writing comments on social media in China.

3. Foreigners must comply with relevant regulations when keeping dogs, cats, and other pets.

4. Foreigners must not photograph military installations, including buildings, sites, and facilities directly used by China for military purposes.

III. How to Get Help in Case of Emergencies

In case of personal assault or property crimes, please call 110.

In case of fire, please call 119.

In case of first aid, please call 120.

In case of passport loss, please report it to the local police station immediately.

Daily Life Services

I. SIM card

(I) Foreigners can bring your passports or Foreign Permanent Resident ID Cards to the service offices of telecom operators such as China Telecom, China Mobile, and China Unicom, to apply for a SIM card and activate mobile communication services in China.

(II) The mobile communication service plans usually include call time and data. Different operators will provide different service plans according to customers' needs, and users can choose the appropriate one.

Note: The plans often offer a limited amount of data. You can disable internet access when not using internet services if the data offered is little. Or, you are suggested to consult the telecom operator for an appropriate data plan if you need to use a large amount of data.

II. Bank card

(I) Foreigners can bring your valid documents such as passports or Foreign Permanent Resident ID Cards to the outlets of commercial banks to apply for a bank card.

(II) Foreigners shall keep the bank cards secure, to avoid loss or unauthorized use by others or criminals. In case of card loss, please report it to the corresponding bank in time.

III. Mobile payment

(I) Foreigners can download and install WeChat, Alipay or Cloud QuickPass apps on your mobile phone, input foreign or Chinese mobile phone numbers and other information for account registration according to the instructions, and follow the prompts on the page to complete bank card binding.

(II) You can bind a bank card with the logos of Visa, Mastercard, UnionPay, American Express, JCB, Diners Club and Discover. You can also apply for an E-Money Card on the Cloud QuickPass app and top it up to make payments in daily consumption scenarios.

(III) Foreigners can scan the collection QR code or show the payment QR code when making payments.

Notes for binding bank cards issued overseas:

1. To bind a bank card to a payment product, it needs to be verified by the issuer. In case of a failure, please consult customer service staff of the payment products or the issuing bank.

2. The scope of bank card brands, payment limits and charging standards may vary with different payment products. Please refer to the prompts on the payment product page and the service agreement for details.

(IV) Users of AlipayHK and WeChatpay HK (HKSAR of China), mPay (Macao SAR of China), Kakao Pay (Republic of Korea), Touch'n Go eWallet (Malaysia), HiPay (Mongolia), Changi Pay (Singapore), OCBC (Singapore), Naver Pay (Republic of Korea), Toss Pay (Republic of Korea), TrueMoney (Thailand), GCash (the Philippines), Kaspi (Kazakhstan), and NayaPay (Pakistan) can use these

e-wallets to pay directly by scanning a QR code in China.

IV. RMB Cash Payment

Outlets of commercial banks provide exchange services for small RMB notes. Foreigners can request an exchange at the counter and self-service equipment as necessary, or a change purse product containing equivalent RMB cash of different denominations at the counter.

V. Exchange of Foreign Currencies

(I) Overseas visitors to China can exchange foreign currencies for RMB cash in advance in relevant countries or regions before bringing it into China (each visitor is allowed to take up to RMB20,000 in cash in or out of the country each time).

(II) Overseas visitors to China can exchange foreign currencies for RMB cash at outlets of commercial banks, money changers, and self-service currency exchange machines at international airports, land ports, ports, and other entry ports, or withdraw RMB cash using international bank cards on ATMs.

VI. Transportation

(I) Train

■ Ticket purchase

1. Identification documents. Foreign travelers can use the following valid identification documents when purchasing tickets or paying for the extended trip at the railway station's ticket office and ticket agents, or on trains: Foreign Permanent Resident ID Card; Passport; Foreigner's exit-entry permit; Seafarer's Certificate; Receipt of acceptance of a visa application issued by the exit and entry administration authority of the public security organs of China; Passport loss report certificate; Temporary international travel document issued by embassies and consulates in China (with valid visas or stay certificates issued by the exit and entry administration authority of the public security organs of China attached). Foreign travelers can use Foreign Permanent Resident ID Cards and passports to purchase tickets through China Railway's 12306 English website, 12306 app, or booking hotline. Foreign travelers can also use Foreign Permanent Resident ID Cards to purchase tickets on self-service machines.

2. Identity verification. To ensure safe and orderly passenger transport, China's railway operator implements real-name ticketing according to relevant regulations. Foreign travelers must complete identity verification before purchasing tickets. You can log in to China Railway's 12306 English website or app to fill in your name, nationality, ID number, and other information following the instructions. The system will automatically complete identity verification. Or, you can upload a photo of the passport information page for manual verification. You can also take valid passports to the ticket office at the railway station for identity verification.

3. Ticket purchase. After the identity verification, foreign travelers can purchase tickets. You can purchase tickets online through China Railway's 12306 English website or app and pay by Alipay, WeChat, or UnionPay bank cards. You can also purchase tickets at the ticket office at the railway station and pay in RMB cash or by Alipay, WeChat, or UnionPay bank cards. Some railway stations also have self-service machines for ticket purchase.

■ Ticket change

Foreign travelers can change tickets on China Railway's 12306 English website and app, or at the ticket office of the railway station. Service fees may be incurred depending on the time of ticket change or the new date of travel.

■ Ticket refund

Foreign travelers can request a ticket refund on China Railway's 12306 English website and app, or at the ticket office of the railway station. Service fees may be incurred depending on the time of cancellation.

■ Railway station entry/exit and train boarding

Foreign travelers can enter and exit the railway station through automatic or manual ticket check gates with the original valid identification documents used when buying tickets, and cooperate to complete ticket verification on the way.

For details of relevant rules, please visit China Railway's 12306 English website or app, or call China Railway's customer service hotline (12306) for consultation.

<https://www.12306.cn/en/index.html>

(II) Airplane

To take domestic flights in China, foreign travelers may book air tickets online on an airline's official website, app and WeChat mini program, or a ticketing platform.

■ Ticket purchase

1. When buying tickets on an airline's official website, app and WeChat mini program, or a ticketing platform, you can make payments via Alipay, WeChat or UnionPay bank cards. Chinese and foreign bank cards are accepted at the online and offline ticketing channels of ticketing platforms and airlines operating international flights.

2. You can also buy tickets at an airport and pay in RMB cash or via WeChat, Alipay, or bank cards following the policies of the airline.

■ Ticket change and refund

Foreign travelers can change or refund tickets through the ticketing platform or at the airport. Fees may be incurred, which is subject to the policies of the airline.

(III) Metro.

A total of 55 cities in China have metro lines. Foreign travelers can apply for metro passes at the metro station or use Alipay to take the metro.

1. Foreign travelers can buy single-journey tickets at the ticket office or self-service ticketing machine of the metro station. Frequent travelers can buy metro passes at the ticket office of the metro station with your passports. You can make payments for tickets or passes in RMB cash or by WeChat or Alipay.

2. Foreign travelers need to open Alipay, click on "Transport", and select "City". After completing identity verification, you will obtain a QR code for metro. You can enter and exit the metro station by having the QR code scanned.

3. Beijing has become the first city on the Chinese mainland to allow metro fare payments by swiping foreign bank cards.

Without buying tickets or downloading relevant apps, foreign travelers can take 27 urban rail lines and the suburban line S2 in Beijing by swiping Mastercard or Visa cards issued overseas at fare gates.

(IV) Bus

Foreign travelers can pay with RMB cash, bus cards, or Alipay to take the bus.

1. Foreign travelers can pay in RMB cash to take buses. You are advised to prepare small change in advance.

2. Foreign travelers can take your passports to the service outlets of bus companies to buy bus cards. Payment for the cards can be made in RMB cash or via WeChat or Alipay.

3. Foreign travelers need to open Alipay, click on "Transport", and select "City". After completing identity verification, you will obtain a QR code for buses. You need to have the QR code scanned when getting on and off a bus.

(V) Online ride-hailing services

Foreign travelers can use Alipay, WeChat or Didi-Greater China apps to book online ride-hailing services. You can also use Trip.com to make an appointment for airport shuttle service.

1. Foreign travelers can open Alipay, click on "Transport", select "Taxi", and enter both the pickup location and the destination to book a ride-hailing service.

2. Foreign travelers can open WeChat, click on "Me", select "Services", scroll down and click on "Mobility" or "Ride Hailing", and enter both the pickup location and the destination to book a ride-hailing service.

3. Download Didi-Greater China APP, which supports foreigners to use foreign mobile phone numbers and international credit cards to register, and book online ride-hailing services once registered. Open Didi-Greater China APP, confirm the pickup location and the destination, select the preferred services (Express, Taxi, Premier, Luxe), and book a ride-hailing service.

4. Open Trip.com, select "Airport Shuttle Service", enter the flight information to make an appointment, and pay directly with an international bank card.

(VI) Car leasing services

Foreign travelers can rent cars at international airports and downtown service outlets. You can also use car leasing apps or search for "mini programs for car leasing" on Alipay or WeChat. Once registered, you can make a reservation for car leasing.

1. Foreign travelers who are going to rent cars need to bring your passports or Foreign Permanent Resident ID Cards, valid Chinese driver's licenses, and international or domestic credit cards.

Note: Foreigners renting a car for the first time need to have your identity document information verified at least one working day in advance.

2. Foreign travelers applying for Chinese Provisional Driving Permits for compact cars must take your passports, overseas driver's licenses with a Chinese translation, recent one-inch half-length, bareheaded, full-faced color photos against a white background, and other necessary documents to public security traffic management service halls. Foreigners who enter China for a short-term stay can apply for Provisional Driving Permits with a validity period of 3 months. For those who intend to stay longer than 3 months, the validity period can be extended to a maximum of one year. The permits can be used whenever the holders reenter China during the validity period without the need for reapplication.

Note: China has signed agreements for mutual recognition and exchange of driver's licenses with France, Serbia, Belgium, and the United Arab Emirates. This allows individuals holding driver's licenses from the aforementioned countries to drive directly in China or obtain Chinese driver's licenses without taking a test.

VII. Accommodation

Foreign travelers can book online through Trip.com (official website, APP or Alipay mini program TripHotels) and pay directly with an international bank card, or make hotel reservations by telephone or other means.

(I) Foreign travelers who are going to stay in hotels are required to present your passports, Foreign Permanent Resident ID Cards, and other valid identification documents for registration at the hotel reception.

(II) The available payment methods at the hotel include RMB cash, bank card, Alipay, and WeChat. If foreign travelers wish to pay with bank cards, you need to inquire in advance if Mastercard, Visa, or other international bank cards are accepted. Some hotels accept such payment methods as Apple Pay and PayPal; foreign travelers need to inquire in advance before making a payment.

Services for Stay and Residence in China

VIII. Visa-Free Transit Stay for Foreign Nationals

On December 17, 2024, the National Immigration Administration (NIA) announced that it would fully relax and optimize the visa-free transit policy for foreign nationals. The stay duration for foreign nationals eligible for visa-free transit has been extended from the previous 72 hours and 144 hours to 240 hours (10 days). Additionally, 21 ports of entry and exit have been added for visa-free transit individuals, further expanding the allowed areas for visa-free transit travelers. Individuals from 54 eligible countries traveling from China to a third country (region) who must hold a valid international travel document and interline passenger tickets to a third country (region) can enter visa-free through any of the 60 open ports in 24 provinces (autonomous regions and municipalities), and stay within the allowed areas for visa-free transit travelers for no more than 240 hours. During your stay, visa-free transit travelers may engage in tourism, business, exchange visits and family visits, while activities such as work, study, and news reporting that require prior approval should be carried out with the necessary visas in advance.

For details of the policy's applicable conditions, ports and allowed areas for visa-free transit travelers, please refer to the official website of the National Immigration Administration: <https://www.nia.gov.cn/n794014/n794021/c1688899/content.html>.

Foreign travelers who are eligible for the visa-free transit policy and have a layover of at least 8 hours at Shanghai Pudong International Airport can go to Shanghai Tourism Information & Service to sign up for the Shanghai Express half-day tour.

IX. Visa extension

For foreigners entering China with a visa, if the original reason for entry has not yet been terminated or if for other legitimate reasons that require you to stay beyond the expiration date specified in the visa without the need to change the type of visa, you may apply for extending the visa. Documents required for visa extension are as follows:

(I) Valid passports or other international travel documents;

(III) Supporting documents concerning the reason for the visa extension application;

(IV) Supporting documents concerning other relevant procedures.

For the application documents required for visa extension, processing procedures and methods, fee basis and standards, etc., you can visit the official website of China's National Immigration Administration and refer to the Guide on Visa Extension, Change and Reissuance for Foreigners under "Services". The requirements for the photos for travel documents can be found in the Guidelines for Travel Documents Photographs in the "Services" section. Additionally, you can find the office address and contact information of local exit-entry reception halls in "Office Enquiries" under "Services". You can also dial 12367 for further information.

X. Residence permit

Foreigners who, after entering China, need to reside within the territory of the country due to reasons other than diplomatic or official matters shall apply for a residence permit and its extension, change or re-issuance at the exit and entry administration authority of China's public security organs to complete relevant formalities. For a foreigner who is a high-level talent or urgently-needed professional, or is under 16 years old or over 60 years old, or with disabilities due to illness or other reasons, the inviting entity/individual, families or relatives of the applicant or a specialized service agency may file the application on behalf of the applicant. Documents required for residence permit application are as follows:

(I) Valid passports or other international travel documents;

(III) Supporting documents concerning the reason for residence permit application;

(IV) Supporting documents concerning other relevant procedures.

For the application documents and requirements, processing procedures and methods, the time limit and other specific details about residence permit application, you can visit the official website of the government service platform of China's National Immigration Administration and refer to the "Guidelines for Foreigners". You can also dial 12367 for further information.

Website of the National Immigration Administration: <https://www.nia.gov.cn>

XI. The Mainland Travel Permit for Hong Kong and Macao Residents (non-Chinese Citizens) (hereinafter referred to as the "Permit")

Permanent residents in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region and the Macao Special Administrative Region who are non-Chinese citizens (hereinafter referred to as non-Chinese Hong Kong and Macao permanent residents) and who wish to travel to the mainland of China for short-term purposes such as investment, visiting relatives, tourism, business, seminars, and exchanges may apply for the Permit through China Travel Service (Holdings) Hong Kong Limited and China Travel Service (Macao) Ltd., authorized by the Exit and Entry Administration of P.R. China. The Permit approved and issued by the exit-entry administration of the public security department is valid for five years. During its validity, the holder may travel to the mainland of China multiple times, with each stay not exceeding 90 days. To apply for the Permit for the first time, non-Chinese Hong Kong and Macao permanent residents shall submit their applications to China Travel Service (Holdings) Hong Kong Limited and China Travel Service (Macao) Ltd. To renew or replace the Permit, the holder may apply to China Travel Service (Holdings) Hong Kong Limited, China Travel Service (Macao) Ltd., or the exit-entry administration of the public security department at or above the municipal level in the mainland of China.

For documents needed and requirements for applying for the Permit, please refer to the website of the National Immigration Administration: <https://www.nia.gov.cn/n741440/n741577/c1659464/content.html>
